Privacy Policy for Rent Infinity

Last Updated: October 31, 2026

1. Introduction

This Privacy Policy describes how Rent Infinity collects, uses, stores, shares, and protects information when you use the Rent Infinity mobile application.

Rent Infinity is a property management application designed to help property owners access information about their rental properties, review rental income and expenses, monitor outstanding rent, view lease and insurance information, and review financial reports and owner distributions.

The initial mobile application release is intended for authorized property owners using the Owner Portal. Features for property managers, tenants, and vendors are not currently enabled in this mobile release.

Rent Infinity is committed to protecting your privacy and maintaining the confidentiality and security of information processed through the application.

2. Information We Collect

Depending on your account and the features you access, Rent Infinity may collect or process the following categories of information.

2.1 Personal and Account Information

- Owner Information: Name, email address, phone number, and other contact information associated with your owner account.
- Account and Authentication Information: Username, authentication information, account identifiers, and access permissions necessary to verify your identity and provide access to the Owner Portal.
- Organization Information: Company or organization details associated with your property ownership account, where applicable.

2.2 Property and Asset Information

The application may display and process information about properties associated with your account, including:

- Property names, addresses, and property details.

- Property ownership and asset records.
- Property-related documents and information available to the owner.
- Property status and related management information.

2.3 Lease and Insurance Information

The Owner Portal may display lease and insurance information associated with your properties, including:

- Lease details, lease dates, and renewal dates.
- Rental amounts and other lease-related information.
- Insurance policy details and relevant coverage information.
- Other property-related records available to authorized owners.

Such records may contain personal information about tenants, insurers, or other individuals. This information is processed to provide the property information and management functionality available through the application.

2.4 Financial and Accounting Information

Rent Infinity provides property owners with financial summaries and reports. Depending on the information maintained in the underlying property management system, this may include:

- Rent collected and outstanding rent balances.
- Rental income and property expenses.
- Owner distributions and related financial records.
- Recent rent payment and distribution records.
- Cash flow reports, income summary reports, and income reports.
- Financial performance summaries and graphs.
- Upcoming lease renewals and related financial information.

Rent Infinity uses this information to display property-level and owner-level financial information and reporting.

2.5 Application and Device Information

The application and its supporting services may process limited technical information needed to operate and maintain the service, such as:

- Device type and operating system version.
- Application version.
- Authentication sessions and security-related records.
- Technical logs, error reports, and diagnostic information, where enabled.
- Network or connection information, such as IP addresses, where collected by the application or its supporting services.

The specific information collected depends on the application's configuration and the services integrated into it.

3. How We Use Your Information

Rent Infinity uses information for the following purposes.

3.1 Account Authentication and Access

- Authenticate property owners and maintain secure access to their accounts.
- Apply account permissions and restrict access to authorized property information.
- Maintain login sessions and help protect accounts against unauthorized access.

3.2 Property Dashboard

We use property and financial records to display dashboard information, including:

- Total properties associated with the owner.
- Total rent collected and total expenses.
- Owner distributions.
- Outstanding rent.
- Upcoming lease renewals.
- Financial performance graphs.
- Recent rent payments, distributions, and account activities.

3.3 Property and Asset Information

We use property records to provide access to the owner's property list and property overview pages, including available lease details, insurance information, and other property-related records.

3.4 Financial Reports

We process relevant financial records to generate and display:

- Cash flow reports.
- Income summary reports.
- Income reports.
- Related financial summaries and visualizations.

These reports are intended to help property owners review rental property performance and financial activity.

3.5 Application Operation and Security

We may use technical and authentication information to maintain application functionality, troubleshoot errors, monitor service reliability, protect accounts, and investigate potential security incidents.

3.6 Communications and Service Updates

Where applicable, we may use your contact information to respond to support requests and send important service-related communications, including account, security, and application updates.

4. Data Sharing and Disclosure

Rent Infinity does not sell personal information to third parties for their own marketing purposes.

Information may be shared in the following circumstances:

4.1 Authorized Access

Property information is made available to authenticated users according to their assigned permissions and the access rules of the underlying property management system.

Some records displayed in the Owner Portal may include information relating to tenants, properties, insurers, or other parties. Access to such information is governed by applicable account permissions and legitimate property management purposes.

4.2 Service Providers

We may share or permit access to information with service providers that support the operation of Rent Infinity, such as cloud hosting, database, authentication, application monitoring, and communications providers, where applicable.

These providers may process information on our behalf to deliver their services, subject to applicable contractual and privacy obligations.

4.3 Legal Requirements and Protection

We may disclose information when required by law, legal process, or a valid governmental request, or when reasonably necessary to protect the rights, security, or safety of Rent Infinity, its users, or others.

4.4 Business Transfers

Information may be transferred as part of a merger, acquisition, restructuring, or sale of relevant business assets, subject to applicable legal requirements and appropriate safeguards.

5. Data Security

We take reasonable measures designed to protect information processed through Rent Infinity against unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and loss.

Depending on the services and configuration used, these measures may include secure authentication, access controls, protected network communications, and security monitoring.

No method of electronic transmission or storage can be guaranteed to be completely secure. We therefore cannot guarantee absolute security.

6. Data Retention and Deletion

We retain personal, property, lease, and financial information for as long as reasonably necessary to provide Rent Infinity, maintain relevant property management records, meet contractual obligations, resolve disputes, and comply with applicable legal requirements.

Property and financial records may need to be retained separately from an owner's login account to meet legal, accounting, contractual, or legitimate business recordkeeping requirements.

Property owners may request account deletion and the deletion of eligible personal information through the account deletion functionality provided by the application, where available, or through the contact information in Section 12.

We will process eligible deletion requests in accordance with applicable law and our retention obligations. Where information must be retained, it may be preserved for the required period and handled in accordance with applicable privacy requirements.

Deleting an owner account does not necessarily mean that all property, lease, transaction, or accounting records associated with that account can be immediately deleted.

7. Your Privacy Rights

Subject to applicable law, you may have the right to:

- Request access to personal information associated with your account.
- Request correction of inaccurate or incomplete personal information.
- Request deletion of your account and eligible personal information.
- Request information about how your information is used or shared.

- Withdraw consent where processing is based on consent.
- Request a copy of eligible personal information in a portable format.
- Object to or request restrictions on certain processing activities where applicable.

To exercise these rights, please use the account controls available in the application, where provided, or contact us using the details in Section 12.

We may need to verify your identity before processing a request. Certain records may be retained where required or permitted by law.

8. Children's Privacy

Rent Infinity is a property management application intended for adult property owners and authorized business users. It is not directed toward children under 13 years of age, and we do not knowingly collect personal information directly from children under 13.

If you believe a child has provided personal information directly to us through the application, please contact us so that we can review the matter and take appropriate action.

9. International Data Transfers

Your information may be processed or stored in countries other than the country in which you reside, depending on the location of our hosting infrastructure and service providers.

Where applicable, we will take appropriate measures to protect personal information when it is transferred across borders and to comply with relevant data protection requirements.

10. Third-Party Services and External Links

Rent Infinity may rely on third-party services to support authentication, hosting, databases, diagnostics, or other application functions.

Those services may process information as necessary to provide their functionality, subject to their applicable terms and privacy practices.

If the application provides links to external websites or services, their privacy practices are governed by their own policies. We encourage users to review those policies when accessing external services.

11. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy as Rent Infinity evolves, new features are introduced, or legal requirements change.

When we update this policy, we will revise the “Last Updated” date and provide notice of material changes through the application or another appropriate communication method where required.

The privacy policy applicable to your use of Rent Infinity is the version made available through the application or its published privacy policy webpage.

12. Contact Information

If you have questions about this Privacy Policy or wish to request access to, correction of, or deletion of your personal information, please contact:
